We have included the story of Kassim and the Dangerous Dragon to remind you of what a Warning Tale is.

Warning Story Structure	Invention
MC and the setting is introduced. MC receives a warning. In a land beyond the hills, lived a poor boy called Kassim. Early one frosty morning, he woke up and began the walk to gather firewood but his mother warned him, "Beware of the deadly dragon whose eyes burn with fury!"
MC ignores the warning and travels to a new setting. So, he walked and he walked and he walked, until he came to a damp, dark, dingy cave. Eager to discover what was inside, the young boy ran towards the entrance. With his first step, he saw dark shadows shivering! With his next step, he heard footsteps scurrying! With his third step, he saw a pile of glittering jewels!

MC get in trouble because of they have ignored the warning.

Stealthily, Kassim crept further into the darkness and took not one, not two but three huge, diamonds that glistened like disco balls! Unfortunately, something else was alive inside the cave! Something large. Something hungry. Something ferocious. It was the dragon - with teeth like daggers, claws like blades and eyes like blazing fires! It shivered in the shadows, slunk towards the boy and savagely snarled.

MC gets help or runs away from the problem.

Yelling for help, the boy who wished he had listened to his mother fled the cave. He ran and he ran and he ran, with the dragon moments behind him.

MC learns a lesson from ignoring the warning.

Just in the nick of time, Kassim arrived home with his heart beating out of his chest. He looked down. In his hand he held not one, not two but three glittering stones - giant seeds of greed!
